how do I delete my facebook account?

To permanently delete your Facebook account:

1. Open Facebook and go to Settings.
2. Open Accounts Center.
3. Select Personal details.
4. Tap or click Account ownership and control.
5. Choose Deactivation or deletion.
6. Select your Facebook profile.
7. Choose Delete account and follow the confirmation steps. Facebook +1

You can also go directly to Facebook's help page:

Facebook Account Deletion Help

Before deleting, consider:

- Downloading a copy of your photos, posts, and other data.
- Checking whether you use Facebook to log into other apps or services.
- Knowing that Facebook gives you a grace period (typically 30 days) during which you can cancel the deletion by logging back in. After that, the deletion becomes permanent. Facebook +1

If you'd rather take a break without losing your data, you can choose Deactivate account instead, which hides your profile until you reactivate it. Facebook +1

AI Overview

Find used kayaks locally around Elmhurst on Facebook Marketplace for Chicago or Facebook Marketplace for Aurora, where nearby deals include a Perception Swiftly in Plainfield for $200 and a Lifetime Tioga with a cart in Hoffman Estates for $475.

Nearby Local Deals (Within ~30 Miles)

- Recreational Sit-Inside: $200 | Perception Swiftly (Plainfield, IL) — Great starter, calm water boat.
- Recreational Sit-On-Top: $475 | Lifetime Tioga with Cart (Hoffman Estates, IL) — Excellent condition, includes transport cart.
- Fishing Kayak: $500 | Ascend 12T 2021 Model (Brookfield, IL) — Stable platform for anglers.
- Touring Kayaks: $1,400 | Two Jackson Journey 14 Kayaks (Darien, IL) — Like new, includes tons of storage and rudder readiness.

Local Outfitters & Retailers

- Yak Shack (Yorkville, IL): ~43 miles southwest, this outfitter sells new gear, runs river trips, and occasionally offers used kayaks from their rental fleet. Yelp
- Offshore Marine & Paddling Warehouse (Northbrook, IL): ~25 miles north, they run closeout sales on new models and carry roof racks. Check the Offshore Chicago site for current deals. Offshore Marine / Paddling Warehouse

Online Marketplaces for Used Yaks

- Paddling.com Classifieds: Use the Paddling.com Gear & Kayaks section to research models and check the Paddling.com Classifieds for used listings further out. Reddit - r/Kayaking

If you let me know your budget, the type of water you plan to paddle (lakes, rivers), and whether you prefer a sit-inside or sit-on-top, I can help you narrow down exactly which boat to hunt for.

What does Maddie Ziegler do now?

Today, Maddie Ziegler is primarily focused on acting, while still doing selective dance, modeling, fashion, and brand work.

She first became famous on the TV show Dance Moms and through her collaborations with Sia, but over the last several years she has been transitioning into a film career. She has appeared in movies such as West Side Story, The Fallout, and My Old Ass.

More recently, she starred in the 2026 action-thriller Pretty Lethal, where she combined her dance background with stunt and action training. The film premiered at SXSW and was released on Prime Video in 2026.

Besides acting, she:

- Models and attends major fashion events.
- Works with beauty and fragrance brands.
- Maintains a large social-media presence with millions of followers.
- Occasionally returns to dance projects and performances.

So the short answer is: Maddie Ziegler is no longer mainly a competitive dancer—she's now best described as an actress who still dances and works in fashion and entertainment.

ChatGPT cites Instagram to settle questions about people: is this person married, dating, or touring. Google does that too, but leans harder into trending culture and visuals, like new album covers and viral looks. Same platform. ChatGPT asks who someone is. Google asks what's happening now.

What Marketers need to know

Same platform, different jobs. On ChatGPT, Facebook is a help desk: more than 3 in 4 of its Facebook citations just help people operate the platform. On Google, Facebook is a source for real-world answers. Know which job each engine assigns before you measure performance.

Instagram is the people-and-culture graph. ChatGPT cites it to answer who someone is. Google cites it for what's trending right now. The role shifts by engine, so the content that earns the citation shifts too.

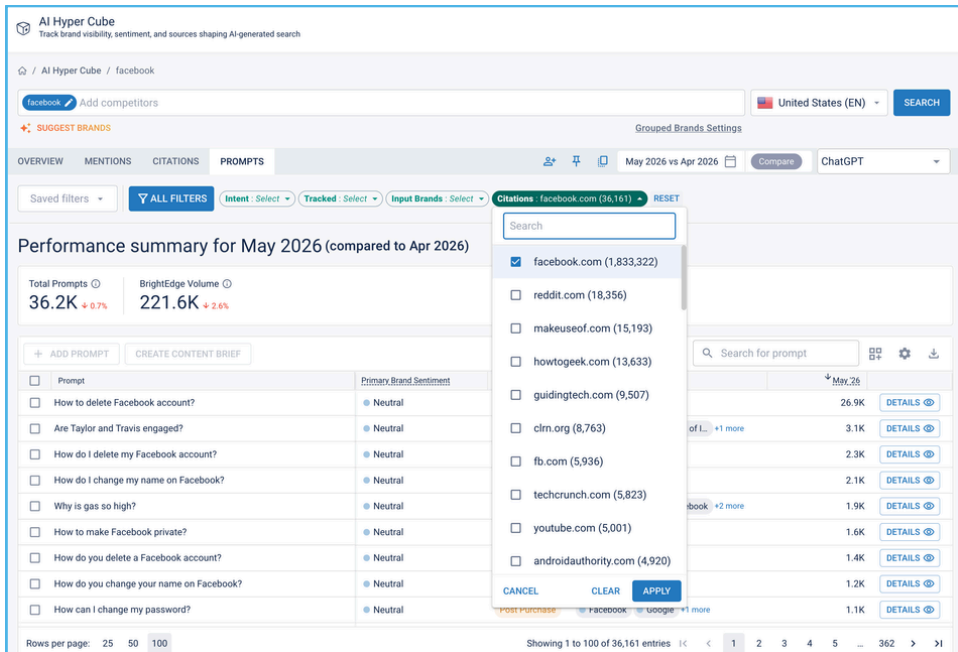

Don't build a separate Facebook or Instagram AI strategy. Build an understanding of where your social actually surfaces in each engine, so you measure the right output in the right place instead of guessing where the credit lives.

You can't tune what you can't see. The same platform plays a different role in every engine, and rarely where you'd guess. Monitor every engine from one place, then feed what's working. Optimize once. Win everywhere.
